Share Your Message and Mission with Like-minded people

Dear Contributor,

Our passion at Energy Magazine is providing thought-provoking, relevant and ultimately applicable information to those interested in the field of Energy Medicine.

Energy Magazine is a online and print bimonthly publication offering articles, columns and book reviews that relate to Energy Medicine. We publish pieces that articulate, demonstrate and substantiate the field of Energy Medicine and support Energy Medicine practitioners. Topics include Energy Medicine modalities, practice development, personal growth, health and wellness, relevant books and much more.

We welcome articles at any time and keep a bank of articles from which we draw for each issue. Articles are selected that fit well together. Consequently, an article may not be published in the issue directly after it has been received. You may wish, or have been asked, to submit an article for a particular issue. To assist you with this, we have included an Energy Magazine Submission Schedule that includes article deadlines for 2022-2023. These deadlines are the final dates that we can accept articles for a given issue.

This document contains all the details needed for submitting an article. We hope this makes it easy for you to send us your contribution. Send your articles, questions or thoughts to info@EnergyMagazineOnline.com.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Anya, Editor-in-Chief
Energy Magazine

“Energy Magazine has established itself as one of the most important voices for cutting edge developments in Energy Medicine. We are proud to count ourselves among Energy Magazine’s authors.”

– David Feinstein and Donna Eden

Editorial Mission

Energy Magazine began in 2006 as a platform for Healing Touch Program to connect with its community. Since its inaugural issue, Energy Magazine has grown far beyond the boundaries of Healing Touch to embrace the wider arena of Energy Medicine. With that expansion of vision came positive response from current subscribers, growth in numbers and the breadth of our readership. As the magazine has grown, the mission has remained the same: to publish articles that articulate, demonstrate and substantiate the world of Energy Medicine and support the Energy Medicine practitioner.

Energy Magazine’s pieces are written by leaders in the field such as David Feinstein, Donna Eden, Larry Dossey, Cyndi Dale, Judith Orloff, Rollin McCraty, Anodea Judith, James Oschman, Belleruth Naparstek, Joan Borysenko and many others. The magazine offers columns, articles, book reviews and more about energy-related modalities and their practice. Energy Magazine challenges its readers to reflect, grow and learn — whether the topic is the latest scientific research, advice for growing a business or tools for personal growth and self-care.

General Demographics

The Energy Magazine readership base is interested in:

- Health and wellness
- Energy Medicine modalities
- Self-care

- Spiritual practices

Circulation

Energy Magazine is published in 6 bi-monthly issues per year (Jan/Feb, Mar/Apr, May/Jun, July/Aug, Sept/Oct and Nov/Dec). Issues are sent to the subscription base via email and/or physical mail. The subscription base is now over 30,000 and growing monthly. In 2020 we began offering tiered subscription options. One free “Lite” option and two paid options (print + digital or digital only). The Lite issue contains a shortened version of the magazine with a small selection of the articles included from the full issue. Placement of articles in each option (free, full or bonus) is up to the discretion of the Energy Magazine staff.

In Print

Print subscriptions are available. The printed format is an excellent option for those who prefer not to read publications online. This also gives readers the opportunity to share the magazine’s articles in classrooms, with clients, in medical facilities, at health fairs and conferences. The print edition is limited to a set page count so we often will include extra “bonus” articles for our subscribers. These articles are not included in the print or digital edition of the magazine but are mentioned with a link to view them on our website.

Deadlines and Publish Dates

Energy Magazine receives, edits and finalizes articles on a regular basis. Final edited articles are placed in a “bank” from which we choose pieces for an upcoming issue. Articles are chosen based on a number of factors, including how they fit together for a particular issue. We are often working on upcoming issues and selecting articles for placement well in advance of the guideline dates given below.

The dates provided below are to be used as a guideline for submitting work. Submitting material on or before these dates does not guarantee a spot in the corresponding issue. Authors are encouraged to send in their articles and related materials as soon as they are completed as adequate time is needed for editing and revisions. If an author has a strong desire to have their piece published in a particular issue this should be noted when it is submitted. Energy Magazine will consider this request, reply as soon as possible to the author and accommodate if we are able. However, we can make no guarantee that an article will be placed in a specific issue.

Guidelines for Writers

Please submit articles in a digital file format in MS Word or Google docs.

Typical article length is usually about 2,500 words, but can be as short as 1,000 words. We are open to receiving longer articles but they may be edited for length. References should be included as endnotes in APA format.

Along with your article, please submit:

- A short bio — No more than 75 words. We reserve the right to edit if the word count is exceeded.
- Contact information — limited to one website or email address.
- A photo of yourself for our Contributors page (high resolution, preferably 300 dpi)
- Completed Article Permission to Use (see pg 5)

Diagrams or graphics that pertain to your article may provide an added richness. They can be emailed in a digital format such as a jpg, gif, tiff, psd, ai or eps file. Images must be at least 300 dpi. By sending Energy Magazine an image, you are indicating you have permission to use it and are granting permission for use by Energy Magazine. Energy Magazine may choose not to use images sent or to use other images. If appropriate, please send captions.

Once submitted, your article will be considered for publication, approved for content and then edited for grammar, length and content, as necessary. If major changes are made, the final edition will be sent back to you, the author, for approval before it is published in the magazine.

Complementary Ad Space and printed issue for Accepted Articles

Energy Magazine offers a unique advertising opportunity in its Mind Body Spirit Marketplace. This is a “go to” section of the magazine for those wanting to quickly find products or services. A sample page of the Mind Body Spirit Marketplace layout can be viewed on page 6 of this contributor packet.

Articles, reviews or columns accepted for inclusion in the magazine will receive one complementary ad, size MSB3, in the Mind Body Spirit Marketplace section of the magazine, space permitting. You can download the Media Kit (<https://discover.energymagazineonline.com/advertise-1>) for more information on ad sizes and requirements.

All authors will receive a link to view the full issue online along with a link to their specific article and custom social media graphics to share online. A complementary printed issue will be mailed to all authors who are featured in the full issue and who reside in the continental United States or Canada.

Fine Print

Energy Magazine (the Publisher) reserves the right to decline any author or specific article at its sole discretion. The Publisher's office reserves the right to reject any article for any reason and at any time, even though a reservation has been previously acknowledged, and even though an article has been directly solicited by a representative. All articles are accepted and published by the Publisher upon the representation that the party submitting the article is the Author or Creator, or is authorized to publish the entire contents and subject matter thereof. In the event of a printing error, the Publisher's liability is limited to a printed statement of correction in an upcoming issue. In consideration of the acceptance of the article, the Author indemnifies and holds the Publisher harmless against any expense arising from claims or actions against the Author because of the publication of the contents of the article.

Article Permission To Use

By submitting the named article (and any related images) to Energy Magazine (EM), I hereby grant EM permission to publish it and edit it for grammar, length and content, as necessary, without monetary compensation. Photos may be cropped. In return, EM will place a short bio and link to my website or other contact information on the Contributors page of the issue. EM will also place a free ad, size MSB3, in the Mind Body Spirit Marketplace section of the magazine in the issue in which my article is published.

By submitting my contribution, I represent that I am the author or creator, or that I am submitting it with the permission of the author or creator who has agreed to these terms and conditions. If the latter is the case, I will make note of this fact when submitting and the bio submitted will be that of the actual author.

I grant EM electronic rights, the right to keep submissions in an archive and the right to reproduce the article on EM websites, related websites or in other means for the purposes of promoting Energy Magazine. Photos and images may be used independently of the article for purposes of promoting Energy Magazine. I understand that I retain the copyright of my original work and am free to use it in any way I choose.
